

The John Lyon School

Art & Design

The Art department at The John Lyon School has been developed in recent years to provide an outstanding range of facilities and resources for our pupils. These include:

- 2 large well-resourced teaching studios for KS3 and 4 teaching.
- Sculpture studio with Ceramic facilities including a large kiln.
- Individual studio spaces for all A-Level students, providing them with space to work in free periods and after school, similar to those of Fine Art degree courses.
- A darkroom studio for black and white photography, SLR and digital cameras, a suite of computers in main studios for image manipulation.
- A School Gallery situated within the School Mall, allowing us to exhibit pupils' work and that of visiting artists in a professional gallery space.
- A printmaking studio space for dry point, silkscreen and photo silkscreen printmaking, including presses and drying facilities.
- Access to a 3D Printer.

Benefitting from our close proximity to London we organise a variety of trips throughout the School to the Capital's major Art Galleries, together with other places of artistic interest further afield.

Art Scholarship candidates will be required to submit a portfolio of 2D and/or 3D art-work supported by drawn studies, ideally created from their own initiative not just school work. Each candidate will be interviewed and given a drawing test. The interview will focus upon the candidate's submitted work, but other aspects of art and design will also be discussed, including a presentation on an Artist or Art movement of the candidates' choice to the teacher and other interviewees.

Art & Design Scholars are expected to play a full part in the School's creative life and will be asked to assist in such activities as peer mentoring, gallery show support and set design for drama productions.
